Title of the Article:

Authors

I/We thus grant the Journal of Chemical Health Risks, the article's publisher, copyright to the aforementioned work. I/We acknowledge that the Journal of Chemical Health Risks will publish, reproduce, disseminate, and transmit the work on our behalf. We also provide permission to other respectable third parties, like document delivery services, to do the same. I/We guarantee that the work is original, hasn't been published in a substantially comparable form, isn't being considered for publication, and doesn't contain any illegal claims. I/We guarantee that "proof of consent" has been acquired for research involving the individuals and organizations listed. The final draft of the work has been given to each author, who accepts responsibility for its content and consents to its submission. I/We claim the moral right to be recognized as the work's author or authors.

Note: Single author's signature is sufficient if all authors are not available.
